PREFACE.

SINCE the publication of Mr. Blunhardt's previous Catalogue of Marathi and Gujarati Printed Books in 1892 the collections of the British Museum have been very greatly increased, and it has therefore been determined to publish the present volume as a supplement. The rapidity with which these literatures have grown in the last twenty-three years may be judged from the fact that whereas the original Catalogue contained 428 columns, the present one contains 592.

In general the same method of arrangement has been followed as in the preceding Catalogue: the indexes of the present volume, however, have been made more comprehensive and classified in greater detail.

AUTHOR'S PREFACE.

THE present Supplementary Catalogue of Marathi and Gujarati books has been prepared on the principles adopted in the preparation of other catalogues of North-Indian vernacular works. It has been thought unnecessary, however, to express the unsounded inherent 'a' in the names of works and authors which are not pure Sanskrit words. It has therefore been omitted. This applies more especially to entries in the Gujarati Catalogue, as that language has less of the pure Sanskritic element than the Marathi.

For the convenience of readers cross-references have been made from the last name of an author, whether indicating his caste, family-title, profession, residence, or literary cognomen, as it is frequently adopted in modern literature as an equivalent for the surname in English.

The large number of works on Jain religion, legend and philosophy is noticeable, especially in the Gujarati language. The titles of these have been all placed together in the Subject-Index under the heading "Jain Literature." Similarly, the titles of all works relating to the religion and literature of Zoroastrians are shown under the heading "Parsi Literature." Works in the Konkani dialect of Marathi, and in the Saurashtra dialect of Gujarati, have also been similarly treated.

The General Index of Titles contains, in addition to the vernacular titles of works, the English titles, as given in the title-page, in cases when a work may perhaps be better known by such title; as also the names of Sanskrit, English, or other works, which are translated into the vernacular under titles differing from those of their originals. The names of commentaries also have been included in this Index. In all these cases, however, these additional titles have been omitted in the Subject-Index.
